

Faculty of Natural Resources and Marine Sciences

We invite you to consider developing your mind in an enriching environment

As the first graduate university in Iran, Tarbiat Modares University (TMU) has its origin in 1982 with the mission of training academic staff and researchers required by universities and centers of higher education. TMU is one of the top universities in Iran. The world ranking of TMU by CWTS Leiden ranking (2019) is 375. The central campus of the university is located in Tehran, the capital of Iran.

It embodies international class education and research in scientific subject areas, with particular regard to their application in industry and community welfare. TMU offers postgraduate programs in more than 160 subjects. We foster interdisciplinary working and collaborate widely externally.

Faculty of Natural Resources and Marine Sciences (FNRMS)

FNRMS as a branch of TMU is located in a beautiful and quiet area in the North of Iran. The faculty started its activities in a land area, more than 75 ha in two coastal and forest parts in Noor county, Mazandaran province in 1982.

Currently, FNRMS pursues its main goal to admit international students in related subjects offered by the TMU.
